"No, thank you. I don't think I want it."

"Well, just walk south a hundred steps without lookin' round er yellin' and you kin save your skin. I guess you know what I mean, pardner."

"I'm sure I do. Good night."

"Good night," came in chuckles from the two holdup men. But Brewster hesitated, a sharp thought penetrating his mind.

"By gad," he exclaimed, "you chaps are very careless. Do you know you've missed a roll of $300 in this overcoat pocket?" The men gasped, and the spasmodic coughs that came from them were born of incredulity. It was plain that they doubted their ears.

"Say it ag'in," muttered Bill in bewilderment.

"He's stringin' us, Bill," said the other.

"Sure," growled Bill. "It's a nice way to treat us, mister. Move along now and don't turn round."

"Well, you're a couple of nice high-waymen," cried Monty in disgust.

"Sil! Not so loud."

"That is no way to attend to business. Do you expect me to go down into my pocket and hand you the goods on a silver tray?"

"Keep your hands up! You don't walk dat game on me. You got a gun there."

"No, I haven't. This is on the level. You overlooked a roll of bills in your haste, and I'm not the sort of fellow to see an earnest endeavor get the worst of it. My hands are up. See for yourself if I'm not telling you the truth."

"What kind of a game is dis?" growled Bill, dazed and bewildered.

"I'm blowed if I know wat to tink of you," cried he in honest amazement.

"You don't act drunk, and you ain't

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, uric acid, catarrh of the bladder and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work and in private practice, and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are sold by all good druggists. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

CHAPTER XII.

BREWSTER made a good story of the holdup at the club, but he did not relate all the details. One of the listeners was a new public commissioner who was aggressive in his efforts at reform. Accordingly Brewster was summoned to headquarters the next morning for the purpose of looking over the "suspects" that had been brought in. Almost the first man that he espied was a rough looking fellow whose identity could not be mistaken. It was Bill.

"Hello, Bill," called Monty gayly. Bill ground his teeth for a second, but his eyes had such an appeal in them that Monty relented.

"You know this fellow, Mr. Brewster?" demanded the captain quickly. Bill looked utterly helpless.

"Know Bill?" questioned Monty in surprise. "Of course I do, captain."

"He was picked up late last night and detained because he would give no account of his actions."

"Was it as bad as that, Bill?" asked Brewster, with a smile. Bill mumbled something and assumed a look of defiance. Monty's attitude puzzled him sorely. He hardly breathed for an instant and gulped perceptibly.

"Pass Bill, captain. He was with me last night just before my money was taken, and he couldn't possibly have robbed me without my knowledge. Wait for me, outside, Bill. I want to talk to you. I'm quite sure neither of the thieves is here, captain," concluded Brewster after Bill had obeyed the order to step out of the line.

Outside the door the puzzled crook met Brewster, who shook him warmly by the hand.

"You're a peach," whispered Bill gratefully. "What did you do it for, mister?"

"Because you were kind enough not to cut my shirt."

"Say, you're all right, that's what. Would you mind havin' a drink with me? It's your money, but the drink won't be any the worse for that. We blowed most of it already, but here's what's left." Bill handed Monty a roll of bills.

"I'd 'a' kept it if you'd made a fight," he continued, "but it ain't square to keep it now."

Brewster refused the money, but took back his watch.

"Keep it, Bill," he said. "You need it more than I do. It's enough to set you up in some other trade. Why not try it?"

"I will try, boss." And Bill was so profuse in his thanks that Monty had difficulty in getting away. As he climbed into a cab he heard Bill say: "I will try, boss, and say, if ever I can do anything for you jes' put me nex' to I'm nex' you all de time."

He gave the driver the name of his club, but as he was passing the Waldorf he remembered that he had several things to say to Mrs. Dan. The order was changed, and a few moments later he was received in Mrs. Dan's very special den. She wore something soft and graceful in lavender, something that was light and wavy and evanescent and made you watch its changing shadows. Monty looked down at her with the feeling that she made a very effective picture.

"You are looking pretty fit this morning, my lady," he said by way of preamble. "How well everything plays up to you?"

"And you are unusually courtly, Monty," she smiled. "Has the world treated you so generously of late?"

"It is treating me generously enough just now to make up for anything," and he looked at her. "Do you know, Mrs. Dan, that it is borne in upon me now and then that there are things that are quite worth while?"

"Oh, if you come to that," she answered lightly, "everything is worth while. For you, Monty, life is certainly not slow. You can dominate; you can make things go your way. Aren't they going your way now, Monty?"

Then more seriously: "What's wrong? Is the pace too fast?"

His mood increased upon him with her sympathy. "Oh, no," he said, "it isn't that. You are good, and I'm a selfish beast. Things are perverse and people are desperately obstinate sometimes. And here I'm taking it out on you. You are not perverse. You are not obstinate. You are a ripper, Mrs. Dan, and you are going to help me out in more ways than one."

"Well, to pay for all these gallantries, Monty, I ought to do much. I'm your friend through thick and thin. You have only to command me."

"It was precisely to get your help that I came in. I'm tired of those confounded dinners. You know yourself that they are all alike—the same people, the same flowers, the same things to eat and the same inane twaddle in the shape of talk. Who cares about them anyway?"

"Well, I like that," she interrupted. "After all the thought I put into those dinners! After all the variety I so carefully secured! My dear boy, you are frightfully ungrateful."

"Oh, you know what I mean, and you know quite as well as I do that it is perfectly true. The dinners were a beastly bore, which proves that they were a loud success. Your work was not done in vain. But now I want something else. We must push along this ball we've been talking of. And the yachting cruise—that can't wait very much longer."

"The ball first," she decreed. "I'll see to the cards at once, and in a day or two I'll have a list ready for your gracious approval. And what have you done?"

"Pettingill has some great ideas for doing over Sherry's. Harrison is in communication with the manager of that Hungarian orchestra you spoke of, and he finds the men quite ready for a little jaunt across the water. We have that military band—I've forgotten the number of its regiment—for the promenade music, and the new Paris sensation, the contralto, is coming over with her primo tenore for some special numbers."

COST THEM THOUSANDS

Subscribers to "Fads and Fancies" Evidently Needed the Book.

New York, July 19.—An investigation of the affairs of Town Topics, growing out of the arrest of Charles H. Ahle on charges of blackmail preferred by Edwin M. Post of the New York stock exchange, has been begun by Assistant District Attorney Krotel.

Moses Ellis Wooster, member of the Society Editors' association, who got up "Fads and Fancies" and also "America's Smart Set," called on Mr. Krotel and furnished the criminal authorities with a copy of the much-talked-of agreement between the Town Topics Publishing company and himself. The agreement shows that Wooster engaged to secure subscribers to "Fads and Fancies," all subscription contracts to be in the name of the Town Topics Publishing company; that the company was to secure an editor and have full supervision of printing and binding; and that Wooster was to receive commissions of 10 per cent in subscriptions up to $50,000 and 20 per cent on all in excess of that amount, the net profit to be equally divided between the parties thereto.

Wooster further told Mr. Krotel that there was no fixed price for subscriptions to the book. He also declared that the subscription of a woman very prominent in society cost her $10,000 and that while the minimum rate was $1,500, some subscribers had paid $3,000 and others as high as $7,000 for their books.

The Boss Fish Story.

Evansville, Ind., July 19.—In a large hollow log raised by the snagboat on the Wabash river near New Harmony, Ind., the crew captured a catfish that weighed nearly seventy pounds. The fish was in the log head first and was not discovered until the log had been sawed off. A rope was placed around the fish and it took two men to pull it out. In the log with the fish were sufficient eggs to fill a five-gallon can.

Advice From Weather Man.

Washington, July 19.—Prof. Henry, the weather bureau forecaster, says that if people will not eat so much heat-producing food, will drink no alcoholic beverages and will walk slowly, they can stand the strain of the next few days very well.

A LASTING PEACE

Coming Conference May Permanently Cement Russo-Jap Friendship.

BOTH SIDES DESIRE IT

It is Now Believed That the Representatives of Belligerent Nations Will Seek a Lasting Peace.

Japan's Terms Are Not Going to Be Too Severe, It is Generally Understood

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 19.—No advice, either from this country or from abroad, have reached President Roosevelt which would warrant, even by indirection, a pessimistic view of the result of the forthcoming peace conference between the plenipotentiaries of Russia and Japan. On the contrary it can be said that such advice as the president has received indicate that a sincere effort on the part of the representatives of both belligerent nations will be made to reconcile their differences and negotiate a treaty of peace that will be permanent.

The terms that Japan will propose have not been made known, even to Mr. Roosevelt, and it will not probably be given out until the conferees assemble as a peace commission. That the terms will not be drastic is believed generally in administration circles.

It is known that the president has intimated to the Japanese government his belief that an agreement with Russia can be reached without serious difficulty, provided Japan's terms are not harsh or of a kind seriously to humiliate her adversary.

The president has indicated definitely that his work, as an intermediary between Russia and Japan, is practically concluded. He is gratified that he has been able to bring the two belligerents together to discuss and consider their differences with a view to the negotiations of a treaty of peace. That he will have an active hand in the conference is regarded as quite unlikely.

The envoys will be afforded every facility and convenience by the United States government for the conduct of their negotiations, but they will be given an absolutely clear field for their conference, a field free from any possible interference.

It is believed that the president will not be drawn into any controversy between the two sets of plenipotentiaries, as the one or the other of the two nations directly interested almost certainly would regard such a contingency as interference.

Some formalities have to be observed by the president, the chief one being the reception of the envoys at Sagamore Hill, but when they have been completed the president will regard his connection with the peace negotiations at an end.

Big Salvage for Japs.

Tokio, July 19.—An officer who has returned from Port Arthur reports that the extent of damage to the sunken Russian ships was slighter than was anticipated. It has been known that the Russians applied explosives inside the vessels before they were abandoned, and the resulting damages were expected to be serious. It has been found, however, that the vital portions of the ships were strangely unhurt. The Bayan, which sustained the most severe damage, has been taken in tow, and the Peresvit is navigable with her own engines. Both of these vessels will soon be brought here to complete the necessary repairs. Even the Palada, which sustained the heaviest damage is expected to be refloated by the end of August and before this time the others will be afloat.

Japs Ready for Vladivostok.

Tokio, July 19.—A Japanese army has been landed north of Vladivostok and a complete envelopment of the fortress is imminent.

FLORIDA TRAGEDY

Young Man Forestalls Discharge by Killing His Employer.

Pensacola, Fla., July 19.—William F. Williams, a clerk in the store of John White, shot the latter dead and then turned his revolver upon a clerk, Ed Damsby, and James White, manager, and both are in a dying condition. Damsby being shot through the back and White through the lungs.

Williams had been drinking and it is supposed, smarting under the thought that he had to be discharged, walked up behind Mr. White and deliberately fired a bullet through his brain. Damsby had his back turned when he was shot and James White jumped from his desk to protect his father when the man shot him through the lungs.

Perils of Bathing.

Ashland, Wis., July 19.—Mrs. Rush and daughter of Kansas City and Edward Ewing of Cable, Wis., were drowned in Namkagon Lake while bathing. They waded out on a sandbar and the daughter slipped off into deep water. The mother went in after her. Young Ewing tried to save them and succeeded in getting them upon the sandbar, but they slipped off into deep water again.

Decision Expected Tomorrow.

Albany, N. Y., July 19.—Every indication today favors a decision by the legislature not later than Thursday night in the case of Supreme Court Justice Hooker.

Drowned in Cistern.

South Bend, Ind., July 19.—The eight-year-old son of Nelson L. Jones fell into the family cistern and was drowned.

THE SIMPLE LIFE

Vice President Fairbanks Escapes Much of the Strenuous Pace.

Indianapolis, July 19.—Vice President Fairbanks has returned to Indianapolis and is at his home on North Meridian street. He will probably be there most of the summer. Since his election to the vice presidency he is not seen so frequently in public here as when he was United States senator. He is not molested by the crowds that are always after something from the government coffers. He still keeps his old offices in the Ingalls block, but he does most of his work in his library at home. Returning to Indianapolis from Culver, he stopped for thirty minutes at Logansport and was not recognized until he was about ready to depart. Then the word flew like wildfire that the vice president was in town and people gathered along the car line to bid him welcome. A local newspaper here that is unfriendly to him tried to make it appear that the vice president was not recognized because he is practically unknown in his own state. As a matter of fact the vice president was not seeking notoriety and was buried behind a newspaper at the station, so that no one had a chance to get a good glimpse of him until he was about ready to depart.

Some Republican leaders who were discussing the various elements in the chairmanship controversy figured that on form George A. H. Shideler will not start in the finals if he finds he will have strong opposition. If there is nothing to it but a fight, they believe he will not face the starter. They recall that in 1898 some of Shideler's friends convinced him that he could land the nomination for secretary of state. He became a candidate, but withdrew three days before the convention. Prior to that experience he was a candidate for speaker of the Indiana house of representatives, but he withdrew several days before the caucus. Two years ago he talked of becoming a candidate for the nomination and got to the point in the race where he obtained the endorsement of every county in his district, but at the time the pace was becoming hot he withdrew. In view of this record some of the leaders say it would not be surprising if he should quit the race for the chairmanship, although his friend Jay Wood Wilson of Marion says he has gone too far this time to back out. Shideler is generally regarded as a big, whole-souled fellow with a regiment of friends throughout the state, but it seems that many are in doubt whether or not he is serious in his talk about wanting to become chairman. It has been reported that he would like to be chairman in 1906 and 1908 for the purpose of getting in line for the nomination for governor.

It is said that Governor Hanly is no longer inclined to feel piqued over the probable reappointment of John Bonnell of Crawfordville as collector of the Terre Haute district on Senator Hemenway's recommendation, though he is not inclined to look with favor on it. Bonnell has always been against the governor and the latter does not forget a political enemy. He was disappointed over the announcement several weeks ago that Bonnell would be recommended by Senator Hemenway, and it was reported soon afterward that he would retaliate by running against Senator Hemenway in 1908, but it is said that he has no intention of becoming a candidate then. He and Senator Hemenway are apparently on as friendly a footing as ever before.

The state tax board is now considering statements of the interurban companies. In this connection a situation somewhat amusing to the board has arisen. Up to this session the tax agents for the interurbans have pleaded that their business was in its infancy and therefore should not be heavily taxed, but this time they are asking for a low assessment on the ground that the property has deteriorated, that it is being found necessary to rebuild with heavier rails. Inasmuch as the interurban representatives do not deny that large business is being done, it would not be surprising if the board should tax their property much higher than it is now.

Edward Donahue's Sentence Commuted to Life Imprisonment.

Indianapolis, July 19.—Governor Hanly has commuted to life imprisonment the death sentence of Edward Donahue, who was to have been executed at the state prison, Michigan City, Friday night. The supreme court refused to set aside the verdict of the lower court and grant a new hearing, although Donahue's attorneys submitted a brief showing that subsequent to the rendering of the verdict signs of insanity had been discovered in the prisoner.

The governor took the ground that the evidence against Donahue justifies the verdict of guilty, but not the extreme penalty, as in his opinion it was wholly circumstantial. There is also a question as to the sanity of the prisoner, he said, which was neither raised nor presented to the trial court.

The fact that the prisoner was penniless, friendless and an ex-convict and defended at the start by only the counsel appointed by the court, also had its weight. The day the trial opened the pauper attorney was appointed to assist in the defense, but he had no time for preparation, his only talk with the prisoner being an hour or so before the trial.

Donahue was convicted of the murder of Armin Northrup, near Hobart, Ind., Oct. 5, 1904. Donahue, who was a horse trader, was accompanied by Northrup as they left Michigan City for Hobart. They reached Tolleston, Lake county, that afternoon, and the next morning continued toward Hobart. Donahue returned to Tolleston later in the day with Northrup's horse and buggy. He sold a watch and chain there supposed to have belonged to Northrup. At Dowagiac, Mich., he gave a child Northrup's pocketbook. A day or two later he learned that Northrup's body had been discovered and that he was suspected of the murder. He fled to the East, but was captured the day before Christmas. He was confident that the governor would commute the sentence.

The Secret of Good Coffee

Even the best housekeepers cannot make a good cup of coffee without good material. Dirty, adulterated and queerly blended coffee such as unscrupulous dealers shovel over their counters won't do. But take the pure, clean, natural flavored LION COFFEE, the leader of all package coffees—the coffee that for over a quarter of a century has been daily welcomed in millions of homes—and you will make a drink fit for a king in this way:

HOW TO MAKE GOOD COFFEE.

Use LION COFFEE, because to get best results you must use the best coffee. Grind your LION COFFEE rather fine. Use 1/2 tablespoonful to each cup, and one extra for the pot. First mix it with a little cold water, enough to make a thick paste, and add white of an egg (if egg is to be used as a settler), then follow one of the following rules:

1st. WITH BOILING WATER. Add boiling water, and let it boil THREE MINUTES ONLY. Add a little cold water and set aside five minutes to settle. Serve promptly.

2d. WITH COLD WATER. Add your cold water to the paste and bring it to a boil. Then set aside, add a little cold water, and in five minutes it's ready to serve.

3. (Don't boil it too long. Don't let it stand more than ten minutes before serving. DONT'S (Don't use water that has been boiled before.)

TWO WAYS TO SETTLE COFFEE.

1st. With Eggs. Use part of the white of an egg, mixing it with the ground LION COFFEE before boiling.

2d. With Cold Water instead of eggs. After boiling add a dash of cold water, and set aside for eight or ten minutes, then serve through a strainer.

Insist on getting a package of genuine LION COFFEE, prepare it according to this recipe and you will only use LION COFFEE in future. (Sold only in 1 lb. sealed packages.) (Lion-head on every package.) (Save these Lion-heads for valuable premiums.)

THE BUSY WOODPECKER

How This Ambitious Denizen of the Forest Cuts Into Telephone Companies' Profits.

Testimony Before State Tax Board Brings Out An Interesting Bit of Information.

Indianapolis, July 19.—Charles Martindale, representing the American Telegraph and Telephone company, informed the state board of tax commissioners today that the old-fashioned red-headed woodpecker is an important factor in determining whether or not the dividends of a telephone company shall be large or small.

Governor Hanly and his associates were interested at once by this break in the monotonous speeches of the tax agents. "These birds," continued Mr. Martindale, relative to the work of the woodpeckers, "bore into the poles, make their nests there, perforate them through and through, with the result that within a few years the poles have to be replaced by new ones, which takes money from the dividends."

Evidently, however, the woodpeckers have not greatly injured the property of his company, as Mr. Martindale asked that the assessment of last year be allowed to stand.

Green Mail Boxes.
The order from the P. The aluminum paint proved a sore disappointment. In no respect was it what it had been "cracked up" to be. The theory upon which it was adopted for universal use throughout the country was all right, but it did not pan out in practice. The notion was that boxes painted with aluminum never would rust, but would retain their bright silver sheen indefinitely throughout the years.

NOTED SINGER
Was the Man Who Eloped to Seymour With Companion Choir Member.

From an article which came out in the Cincinnati Enquirer this morning we find that the Mr. W. H. Rothacker, who eloped to this place from Cincinnati with Miss Charlotte Schorman, an account of whose marriage we gave yesterday, was an opera singer of some note, having played with Rose Cecilia Shay's company in Cincinnati two years ago and taken the part of Marco Polo in the two local productions of that play, once at the Fall Festival and once at the Zoo and has been a member of the choir of several of the leading churches of Cincinnati. The Enquirer goes on to say that he and Miss Schorman have been friends for some years and recently sang together in the choir of the Central Presbyterian church. Rothacker will leave for New York in a few days to join an opera company. Mrs. M. V. Rothacker, the mother of the groom, does not think that her son was out of Cincinnati during the past five days and cannot believe that he came to Seymour and was married, and says that even if they had desired to marry, there would have been no reason for an elopement, as her son and Miss Schorman have been friends for years and there were no objections on either side.

BAD BLOOD INVITES DISEASE
The blood supplies nourishment and strength to every part of the body when it is rich, pure and healthy. When from any cause it becomes diseased or weak it cannot supply the nutriment the system needs, and the body is unable to resist the diseases and troubles that are constantly assailing it to break down the health.

I have used S. S. S. and found it to be an excellent blood purifier and tonic. My blood was weak and impure, and as a result my system became very much run down and debilitated. I lost twenty or more pounds in weight, had no appetite and was in bad shape. Seeing S. S. S. advertised I began its use, and am well pleased with the results after using it for some little while. My system and general health have been wonderfully built up, and I no longer hesitate to give S. S. S. the credit for it. H. MARTIN, Warren, O., 60 Second St.

Rheumatism, Skin Diseases, Scrofula, Catarrh, Old Sores, Malaria, Contagious Blood Poison, etc., are the results of bad or diseased blood, and until this vital fluid is cleansed and made pure, strong and healthy, these diseases will continue. The greatest of all blood purifiers and tonics is S. S. S. It has been curing all diseases of the blood for more than forty years by going down to the very root of the trouble, forcing out all poisons and impurities and building up every part of the system by its fine tonic effect. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Skin Diseases, Scrofula, Catarrh, Old Sores, Malaria, Contagious Blood Poison and all other blood troubles, and cures them permanently. S. S. S. is the acknowledged king of blood purifiers and the greatest of all tonics. Books on the different diseases, and any medical advice you may wish will be given without charge.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

CHICAGO, Ill., July 19, 1905.—Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday with showers north portion. Cooler central and north portion tonight.

Prospects Good.

According to the bulletin issued by the Indiana climate and crop service there will be in this state a fair crop of peaches, pears and plums, a light to fair crop of apples and a good crop of grapes. An abundance of blackberries is at hand and a good crop of nutmegs of fine quality is being gathered. Watermelons also promise well. Corn is continuing to make rapid growth and is very promising. The acreage of oats is large and the prospect for a heavy yield is good in all sections, but in danger of damage should the weather again become rainy.

Farm Sold.

Mrs. Mary A. Baldwin has sold her farm in Redding township of 45½ acres to Mr. Chas. H. Hustelt for $3,000. Mrs. Baldwin expects to leave the latter part of the week for Memphis, Tenn. to take treatment for her eyes.

Blaze Threatened.

About midnight Tuesday night the fire alarm sounded. Some one, it appears, had thrown a lighted cigar stub near the woodshed of Rev. G. W. Shields, corner of Laurel and Walnut streets. The wood at the lower part of the barn caught fire and was just beginning to blaze when a party of hayriders who were passing it made the discovery. The fire was extinguished promptly with little damage aside from a small hole burned in the side of the woodshed. The fire department was called out but its services were not needed owing to the fortunate discovery of the fire just as it was starting.

New Rule.

The Pennsylvania has established a new rule that no employee can draw his check at any point on the division unless he is on duty at the time the car arrives at that place. The purpose of this order is to prevent the practice of some of the men going to the points whence the pay car starts on its monthly trip and drawing their pay a day or two in advance. Instead of waiting till the car arrives on its regular round.—Indianapolis Star.

Patriotic Spirit.

When Judge Taft was looked upon as the one man to become governor general of the Philippines Elihu Root was selected to present the demand of the administration upon the upright judge. Mr. Taft was ambitious to develop himself in the field of endeavor that his illustrious father had worked in so successfully and for which he himself was so well fitted. His desire for preferment was in that direction. To give this up and go to the Philippines seemed to be a sacrifice of this ambition. It seemed so to him and to the men who had chosen him. This point was emphasized by Elihu Root, who then turned and with equal emphasis made the appeal for the country. So now President Roosevelt turns to this same Elihu Root, admitting that it is a sacrifice that is demanded of him, but a sacrifice that should be made just as he himself admitted that the call upon the Ohio judge was for a reasonable sacrifice. Mr. Root makes the sacrifice and the whole country is glad of it.

Successful Recital.

Miss Ida MacDuff, who taught music in the Seymour schools for five years, is now a teacher in music and elocution at Greensburg. Her work there has been decidedly successful and a recital given there by her pupils is highly complimented by the Greensburg News. A part of what that paper said is as follows:

"The entertainment at the C. I. C. Hall last night was a treat to Greensburg people such as they have not enjoyed in many a day. All those who participated in the recital including the Sigma Phi Orchestra, are pupils of Miss Ida MacDuff, who is also in charge of the new orchestra at the Centenary church. The music was exquisite and the pantomime work was faultless. He who did not attend the recital missed a rare, high-class performance."

COTTON SCANDAL

Proved Too Much For Chief of Bureau of Farm Statistics.

JOHN HYDE GETS OUT

Publicly Exonerated of Any Implication in Cotton Scandal, But Strain Was Too Great.

Retired Statistician Says the Cotton Growers' Association Has Been After His Scalp.

Washington, July 19.—The resignation of John Hyde, statistician and chief of the bureau of statistics of the department of agriculture, was handed to Secretary Wilson and promptly accepted. Willett N. Hayes, the assistant secretary of the department of agriculture, has been placed in charge of the bureau temporarily and will continue to act pending the investigation of the cotton scandal, and until a competent statistician is found. Mr. Hyde's withdrawal from the department created wide interest. Secretary Wilson and other officials of the department have stated that Mr. Hyde has not been implicated in any manner in the irregularities that caused the dismissal of Edwin S. Holmes, the associate statistician, whom secret service operatives charged with being guilty of giving to brokers advance figures of cotton crop statistics. In his letter to the secretary Mr. Hyde takes notice of the fact that he will be criticized for resigning under fire and in defense says there has never been a time when he was not under fire. He declares that an organization, meaning the Cotton Growers' association, is bent upon getting him out of the government service and that his health will not permit him to continue so unequal a struggle. There is considerable speculation as to the probable successor of Mr. Hyde. One name that has been suggested is B. W. Snow of Chicago, statistician for well-known farm journals, and once an assistant statistician under J. S. Dodge, who was chief of the bureau about twelve years ago. Mr. Dodge was in charge at the time the present system of gathering crop statistics was devised. Colonel Henry Nestor, secretary of the New Orleans cotton exchange, in a conversation with Secretary Wilson, contended that the salary paid by the department is inadequate to get the right kind of a man for the place.

A ROYAL SCANDAL

Prince Phillip of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha Seeks a Divorce.

Vienna, July 19.—Princess Louise of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, recently declared sane by doctors who examined her in Paris after her escape from an asylum, has telegraphed to her attorney in Vienna, declining to negotiate with her husband, Prince Phillip of Saxe-

The princess declines to enter into negotiations with her husband while he retains Bachrach. The question of the cruel treatment of the princess will therefore come before a court for judgment, as Prince Phillip has begun proceedings for divorce at Gotha.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills contain no opium, cocaine, morphine or chloral in any form. They are absolutely harmless if taken as directed, and will have no other effect, except to drive out the pain.

"Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are all right, and I can recommend them to any one in need of a remedy for headache, neuralgia, or pain of any kind. My health is not very good, and I am subject to frequent attacks of severe headache, but since I began taking Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills I do not suffer from a headache as I used to. ### DAINGEROUS BUSINESS

Alrshlp Flying Claims a Victim in California.

San Jose, Cal., July 19.—Daniel Maloney, who had made several successful ascensions with Prof. Montgomery's aeroplane, fell 3,000 feet to his death at Santa Clara. Maloney made an ascension from the grounds of Santa Clara college in honor of the League of the Cross cadets, who are holding their annual encampment. About 2,000 persons watched with interest the machine as it shot upward from the college garden attached to a huge balloon. At a height of 4,000 feet Maloney cut loose and began maneuvering with the aeroplane. He sailed gracefully about and then essayed a deep dip. Suddenly the machine swerved, hesitated and then turned completely over. It righted itself, sunk down a considerable distance, and turned over again. Maloney was clinging desperately to his seat and evidently endeavoring to regain his control, but all his efforts were in vain. Again the aeroplane turned in the air, the wings came together and the man and the machine plumed straight downward, while the horrified spectators gazed helplessly.
